

Crown College

Fall Classes:

WORLD CIVILIZATIONS

HIS1510

Credits: 3

Course Assistant: Sarah Nelson

Description:This course is an introductory course on selected topics in the history of major world civilizations that have shaped the foundations of mankind; from the earliest records of humankind through approximately 1500 AD. It is designed to familiarize students with the political, social, economic, religious, and intellectual histories of the world.

COLLEGE ALGEBRA

MAT131

Credits: 3

Professor –Esther Williamson

Description:This course provides a short review of Algebra II, followed by a concise study of algebraic, polynomial, exponential and logarithmic functions and their graphs. Linear, quadratic and systems of equations are included, along with their applications. This course provides a foundation for students wishing to take calculus.

SpringClasses:

PUBLIC COMMUNICATION

COM1515

Credits: 3

Course Assistant: Sonja Hettinga

Description: This course provides the student with an introduction to the theory of the communication process. Topics include analyzing a target audience, organizing material, preparing an effective method of delivery, and developing informative and persuasive speeches. Each student will deliver speeches that are video taped and evaluated.